

Army Attachment Camp – 20 Madras Regiment (2025)

The Army Attachment Camp (AAC) is a specialized training program where NCC cadets are attached to units of the Indian Army to gain hands-on exposure to military life. During the camp, cadets undergo training in day and night warfare techniques, learn about military weapons and equipment, and participate in various drills under the guidance of experienced Army instructors. This experience helps cadets develop discipline, physical endurance, and a deeper understanding of Army operations.

Three cadets from Sardar Patel College — CDT M. Ankitha, CDT Y. Harshitha, and CDT P. Manisha — attended the Army Attachment Camp at Bollaram Cantonment, Secunderabad, with the 20 Madras Regiment from 26th July 2025 to 4th August 2025.
